

Introduction/Business problem

I want to open a Spanish restaurant in London and I need to find the perfect location. I need to make sure there are not a lot of similar restaurants in the area and that I can make profit there.

Data

I need to know the neighborhoods in London, its location, and data of the restaurant.

Extracting,

I am going to use the List of areas of London on Wikipedia, get the location through geocoder package, and the venue data from the foursquare API.
